The message of the parable has not changed. God is still the master. He is still the giver of all good things. Without His generosity we would have nothing.

The principles have never changed. They are always the same. God waits to see what we will do with what He has given us.

Discussion Questions:

4. God is always looking for faithful servants. When we are faithful with those talents, God gives us more talents. He is constantly studying our lives, looking for faithful servants. When He looks at you, what do you think He is seeing?
